

Here is the MARC record for the Student learning through Ohio school libraries tools and resources CD, as found in the INFOhio Curriculum Resource Catalog. (www.infohio.org)

001 110-1459224
005 20050315231448.0
007 co cga
008 040629s2004 ohunn u eng d
040 $a OEICSD $c OEICSD $d OLMiUC
100 1 $a Todd, Ross J.
245 10 $a Student learning through Ohio school libraries tools and resources CD $h [electronic resource] / $c Ross J. Todd, Carol C. Kuhlthau and OELMA.
246 1 $i Subtitle of the study $a Ohio research study
246 1 $i Popular title $a Ohio study
260 $a Columbus, OH. : $b OELMA, $c c2004.
300 $a computer laser optical disc : $b col., sd. ; $c 4 3/4 in. + $e instruction sheet.
500 $a Drs. Ross Todd and Carol Kuhlthau, international researchers on school libraries and student learning, conducted research to provide comprehensive and detailed empirical evidence of how school libraries help students learn. That research has been published as "Student Learning Through School Libraries: The Ohio Research Study." The study was funded by the State Library of Ohio through a Library Services and Technology Act (LSTA) grant from the federal Institute of Museum and Library Services (IMLS).
520 $a CD contains valuable instruments for school librarians to track and chart the effectiveness of local library programs.
538 $a Windows and Macintosh
650 0 $a School libraries $x Administration.
650 0 $a Media programs (Education) $x Management.
700 1 $a Kuhlthau, Carol Collier, $d 1937-
710 2 $a OELMA.